

Editor's Comment:

Comments

Correction was done. But there is another problem: The number of samples is very small. The sampling is not representative. How did the authors do to work only on 4 samples. What was the mathematical formula that allowed retaining only 4 samples. And if the sampling took place in a company, for reasons of conflict of interest, the authors should not mention the name of the Company.

Decision

I am not satisfied.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Abdelsalam Tidjani
Associate Professor, University of N'Djamena, Chad